Dear Mr. Secretary;

You have undoubtedly noticed that during the past few years clubs, chambers of commerce, trade associations, etc. have been planning their annual meetings and conventions in the form of steamship cruises on the waters of the Great Lakes, the duration of these cruises ranging from one day to two weeks.

The reason for this change in form is that delegates using lake steamship lines in traveling to and returning from convention cities have been impressed by the success of small gatherings and dinners that happened to take place on board the steamers.

Our Steamships UNITED STATES and ARIZONA are two of the ships on the Lakes that are especially equipped for the convenience of convention parties. Comfortable sleeping rooms. A cuisine of the highest order. Attentive yet unobtrusive service. Spacious cabins, dining rooms, promenade decks, etc.

These facilities plus the certain holiday spirit that just naturally pervades on shipboard cannot be excelled in the promotion of the correct mixture of business and pleasure - the basis of a successful convention.

If you will fill in and mail the enclosed postal giving us the approximate number of your party we will be pleased to quote you our rates.

Yours very truly,

Robert E. Doyle
